More than Books: A Celebration of Our Community

Every Book Fair hosted by Lifeline Northern Beaches, Mosman to Kirribilli tells a story of community, compassion, and connection.

Each year, an abundance of donated books find new homes, offering affordable reading treasures while helping to fund lifesaving local services. Behind every sale is a team of dedicated volunteers who sort, price, and display tens of thousands of pre-loved books — ensuring nothing goes to waste and every dollar raised goes directly toward crisis support, counselling, and financial assistance for those in need.

These events are more than just fundraisers; they're celebrations of sustainability and local spirit, where neighbours come together to share stories, rediscover favourite authors, and support mental health in their own backyard.

Through every book sold, the Northern Beaches community helps Lifeline continue its vital mission: providing hope and help when it's needed most.
